

Design is a visual representation of an artwork produced, through many potential means. It combines different elements, shapes, patterns... etc. Design is producing a creative artwork out of the ordinary, or in other words, an artwork that is original and expressive.

Three of my major interests, goals and skills in design are: learning how the thinking of designers when they want to produce a unique artwork and how they make use of different elements (patterns, shapes, negative spaces... etc); being able of designing something unique, original and creative without reference; mastering the artistic tools existing nowadays in order to produce all the types of effects pictured in my mind.

Julie Wang

