

Green Photos

I chose this photo for my green photo because it will fit to my vision. Specifically, the photo is closing up the subject of the photo which is forming abstraction from it. But the point is that even though only a small part of the subject is taken, the photo is very beautiful, which was my message of the photo. Moreover, it is related to my inspired photographer because it is one of the most often used subjects that the photographer used for his which is the plant. Also, the element, texture is well utilized for this photo, making it even more beautiful.

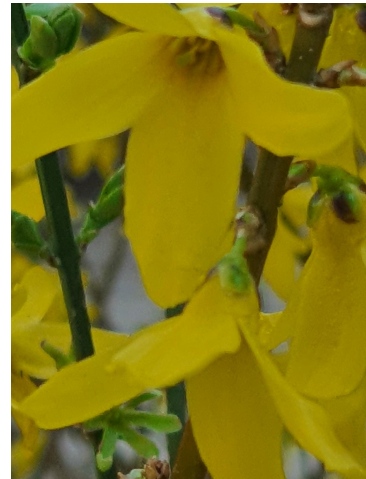

Green Photos

I chose this photo for my green photo because it will fit to my vision. In this photo the subject is zoomed-in, expressing abstraction in this photo. Also, even though it is abstract, the photo looks beautiful which was my goal for set 2. The subject of this photo is a plant which was inspired by my photographer. Lastly, it mainly uses elements, focus and texture, there are direct focus and the unfocus in this photo and there are also textures of the subject.

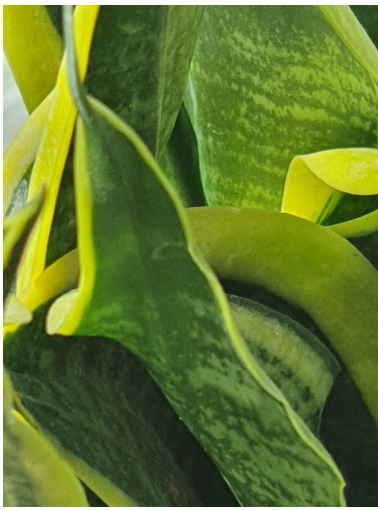

Green Photos

I chose this photo for my green photo because it will fit to my vision. In this photo the subject is zoomed-in, showing abstraction in this photo. Also, even though it is abstract, the photo looks beautiful which is my message for this set. The subject of this photo is a plant which was inspired by my photographer. Also, this photo shows great usage of texture from the trees and flowers.

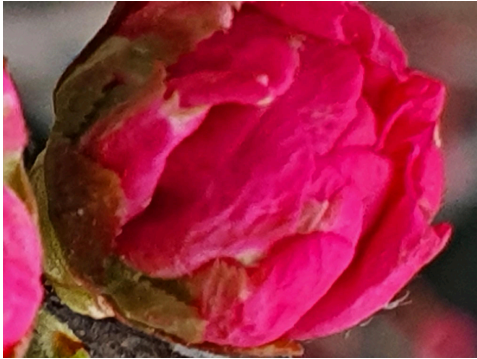

Green Photos

I chose this photo for my green photo because it will fit to my vision. In this photo the subject is zoomed-in, showing abstraction in this photo. Also, though it is abstract, the photo looks good which is my message for this set. Due to the inspiration by the photographer Edwin Giesbers, the subject used in this photo is plant. Also, the photo shows great usage of element, focus. This is because there are focus on the flower and unfocus for the background.

Green Photos

I chose this photo for my green photo because it well fit to my vision. Specifically, the photo is closing up the subject of the photo which is forming abstraction from it. But the point is that even though only small part of the subject is taken, the photo is very beautiful, which was my message of the photo. Moreover, it is related to my inspired photographer because it is one of the most often used subjects that the photographer used for his which is the plant. Also, I especially like this photo because the shape of plant is so beautiful.

Green Photos

I chose this photo for my green photo because it well fit to my vision. Specifically, the photo is closing up the subject of the photo which is forming abstraction from it. Even though only small part of the subject is taken, the photo is very beautiful, which was my message of the photo. Moreover, it is related to my inspired photographer because it is one of the most oftenly used subjects that the photographer used for his which is the plant. Also, I also like this photo because this photo is especially zoomed-in but it still looks good.

Green Photos

I chose this photo for my green photo because it well fit to my vision. Specifically, the photo is closing up the subject of the photo which is forming abstraction. Also, the subject used in this cartoon is a person which a type of animal, and I chose because my inspired photographer also used animal as a subject for his cartoon. Moreover, even though it is close-up, so we can only see the eyeball but it still looks good.

Green Photos

I chose this photo for my green photo because it well fit to my vision. Specifically, the photo is closing up the subject of the cartoon which is forming abstraction from it. Also, the subject of this cartoon is plant which was inspired by the photographer named, Edwin Giesbers. I especially like this photo because the photo contains great usage of an element which is a texture of the tree and it looks very good.

Green Photos

I chose this photo for my green photo because it well fit to my vision. In this photo the subject is zoomed-in, expressing abstraction in this photo. Also, the even though it is abstract, the photo look beautiful which was my goal for set 2. The subject of this photo is a plant which was inspired by my photographer. Lastly, it mainly uses elements, focus and texture. This is because there are direct unfocus and focus due to the usage of both blur and close-up. Also, the texture of plant is very unique, making the photo even more beautiful.

Green Photos

I chose this photo for my green photo because it well fit to my vision. Specifically, the photo is closing up the subject of the cartoon which is forming abstraction from it. Also, the subject of this cartoon is plant which was inspired by the photographer named, Edwin Giesbers. I especially like this photo because the photo shows unique pattern of the texture of the tree, making the photo look good.