

Lost in the Antarctic

Day 3

DATE 2023/1/9 NO.

Tricks to try:

- group information into bigger concepts
- add key details to support each point
- notes are brief, often incomplete sentences
- add page number, to find full quote later.
- begin thinking of possible themes, central idea.

Many times in life, courage is needed.

They were trying to keep out the water Pg: 2

Even though they might die, they still were going no matter what. page: 12

The deck under Shackleton's feet twisted and bent. page: 7

The endurance hit ice on her fifth day out. Pg: 37

There was really less supprise Pg: 139

The sea ice is growing thicker and more treacherous Pg: 45

Their boat sank and there is ^{almost} nothing to eat.

There is lots of unknown predator. "The man spent much of the night huddled by a blubber fire. Listening to the killer whale blow in the lands." pg: 115.

"Beside their weather-beaten crew of 28 men, the only land creatures for 1000 miles around were penguins and seals."

pg: 78

Only six pounds of lentils, 7 pounds of oat meal and a can of soup made it of the ship. Pg: 88

